Control of Weeds In Flax By 2,4-D

Flax competes poorly with weeds. For this reason the cleanest land should always be chosen for this crop. However, when it is impossible to find land which is free from the weeds that compete with flax, 2,4-D may be used to suppress them.

Flax is more sensitive to 2,4-D than are most of the cereal crops, says W. O. Chubb of the Pilot Flax Mill, Portage la Prairie, Man. This chemical substance should therefore never be applied on flax at more than the recommended rates. The rates recommended for flax in Western Canada are 3 to 5 ounces (acid equivalent) of the amine form of 2,4-D or 2 1/2 to 4 ounces of the ester form. These rates are to control susceptible annual weeds like mustard and stinkweed. For the control of more resistant weeds such as Russian thistle, and the top growth of perennial weeds, up to 6 ounces of the amine form or 6 ounces of ester form may be used.

Do not apply 2,4-D on flax before the crop has reached the 4 leaf stage and never apply this chemical on flax in the early bud and flowering stages. These are the periods in the growth of flax when the crop is most sensitive to injury from 2,4-D.

Mr. Chubb says the safest period to apply 2,4-D for weed control in flax is from the time the crop is in the 4 leaf stage until just before any flower buds appear.

Since the end of the war 14 million Canadians have absorbed 1.2 million refrigerators, 4 million radios, 3 million washing machines, 1.7 million cars and trucks.

U.N. Assembly President Welcomes His Son

One of the youngest—and keenest—visitors to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris was six-year-old Adrian, shown above with his famous father, Dr. Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, the President of the Assembly. After a warm welcome in the President's office, Adrian sat through a plenary meeting and took notes of his father's speech. "I can write, too, like father," he said, after listening carefully to the simultaneous interpretation.

Attending the meeting also were Mrs. W. L. Loeve of Nanton, regional director of the Young Liberal provincial organization; W. L. Loeve, constituency convener of Okotoks-High River, and Mrs. S. J. Dowhan—director from the women's Liberal organization.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

For many years we have been accustomed to signs in our store windows saying that a premium would be allowed on American funds. Now the tune has changed. The other day, this notice appeared in a Toronto druggist's window: "American Money Accepted at Par."

Some 23 ladies of Armada and surrounding districts gathered at the Legion hall Wednesday afternoon to honor Mrs. Barry Middleton, nee Audrey Grant, with a shower. The ladies were entertained with several games of Bingo with the grand prize for the one winning the most games going to Mrs. L. Sokvitne of Lomond. Mrs. Middleton and her mother, Mrs. W. Kunkle, Mrs. S. Marks and Mrs. K. Sokvitne.

$100 MILLION INVESTED IN ALBERTA INDUSTRIES DURING 1951

Nearly $100,000,000 was invested in Alberta industries in 1951, it is shown in the Provincial Marketing Boards annual report.

Listed in the province, the report mentioned the $54,000,000 Canadian Chemical Company's plant at Clover Bar, the $13,000,000 Canadian Industries Limited's plastics plant at Strathcona and the $17,000,000 Sherritt-Gordon nickel refinery at Fort Saskatchewan.

The report said defence requirements are contributing to high employment and increased purchasing power. Materials and manpower were in limited supply. Civilian construction work was curtailed as men and materials were channelled into defence projects.

The Board said labor shortages in the lumbering and agricultural industries were caused because jobs are available in cities.

BREAKFAST SKIPPERS

The excuses for not eating an adequate breakfast are many and varied, the favorites being "not enough time in the morning," "no appetite for anything but coffee" and "it helps me to reduce." It also helps to encourage fatigue, winter colds and respiratory diseases, as well as poor reaction in working and driving. A well-balanced breakfast should consist of one third of the day's nourishment by getting up a little earlier to take fruit juice, hot whole-grain cereal, bacon or egg and toast, and a hot beverage, the morning's nutrition will be provided.

Announcement was made on Tuesday by the County of Vulcan that the Oland Construction Co. of Lethbridge has been awarded the contract for the construction of three new schools in the County of Vulcan.

Estimated cost of the schools is $495,000 and they comprise a four-room school at Champion, an eight-room school at Carmangay and a six-room school at Milo.

The contract was let on the basis of cost of construction plus a fixed fee of $17,000 and the amount of money available through grants and the authorized debenture issue is expected to cover the total cost without difficulty.

Construction of the schools will commence as soon as possible.

Shower Honors Miss Rose Hyslip

Complimenting Miss Rose Hyslip, whose marriage to Bob Porter of Lethbridge takes place this month, Mrs. A. R. Mainland and Mrs. John Hunter were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower, Thursday evening, April 10, in the Legion hall.

Blue and white streamers and bells were used effectively in the decorating scheme.

An interesting program was presented, with Miss Marilyn Seales and Miss Anne Nicol singing a duet; Miss Marilyn Lloyd and Miss Helen Nicol playing a piano duet, and "The Sailors' Hornpipe" dance done by Miss Glenna Joiner, Miss Donna Lloyd and Miss Colleen O'Connell, in sailors' costumes.

A beautifully made and decorated model ship, with the name "S. S. Porter" on its side was brought into the room by the make-believe sailors and presented to the bride-elect. Mrs. Mainland, on behalf of those assembled, expressed the good wishes of her many friends, to Rose, and read an original verse, also expressing the same thought. Assisting the guest of honor in "unloading" her ship and opening the many attractively wrapped gifts were her mother, Mrs. Maude Hyslip, her aunt, Mrs. Annie Hyslip and Mrs. Anne Sales. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by several of the friends of Rose.

"WAR IS HELL" SAID GENERAL GRANT

Latest tidbit from Washington deals with the Army Engineers' Depot at Baton Rouge, Louisiana. In 1942, it was built at a cost of $3 million. In 1949, it was sold as war surplus for $205,000. Two months later, the U.S. government rented part of it for storage purposes, paying $100,000 a year. In 1952, the U.S. air force rented part of it for the same purpose, paying $200,000 a year. Now the U.S. army wants the whole building back and has been authorized by Congress to pay $2.5 million for it.

Harvesting and Seeding Soon General If Fine Weather Stays

Warm weather has prevailed the past few days and roads and fields are drying up rapidly.

Grain is reported to be dry and ready to harvest, although most fields are still too wet to allow combines to operate or seeding operations to start.

East of town and on higher ground a few combines were reported to be at work and if the fine weather continues seeding and harvesting should be general in another week. An estimated 65 per cent of the 1951 crop in the Vulcan district still remains to be harvested and it is hoped the dry weather will continue.

Board of Arbitration Necessary

Teachers Reject Proposed County Salary Schedule

A new salary schedule proposed by the School Committee of the County of Vulcan was rejected by the A.T.A. local of the County at a meeting held in Vulcan last week.

Twenty-four of the 51 teachers employed in County schools were present and the vote was 19 to 5 against accepting the salary schedule proposed by the County.

According to information supplied the Advocate, the main point of difference is in the basic rate, the County offering $1800 and the teachers asking for $2000 per year. Basic salary last year was $1,650, with yearly increments for experience of $125.00 a year up to eight years or 50 per cent of basic up to maximum of $1000, $800 for a university degree, $50 for each credit towards a degree, and up to $800 additional to a principal for supervision of rooms other than his own.

The County has offered the following schedule: Basic salary $1,800, yearly increments for experience of $150 for each of the first four years and $100 each year for the next four years; $900 for the first degree and $300 for the second; $60 for each university credit towards a degree, and up to $1000 extra to principals, for supervision of rooms other than their own.

According to the County's figures, this new schedule would mean an average increase in teachers' salaries throughout the County of $260 and the average salary of County teachers would be $3,120.

It is understood that the next step in breaking the deadlock will be a board of arbitration.

Institute Hears Conference Report

Good Deeds W.I. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith, April 10. Seventeen members and two visitors were entertained with a report of District IV Conference at Lethbridge by Mrs. H. I. Montgomery and a paper on Education by Mrs. S. White. A resolution urging the government to back the school units in purchasing books for rental to students in grades VII to XII was passed at the conference. Another resolution asked for more road signs on the highways.

Mrs. White chose as her topic "Correspondence Courses in the Primary Grades", outlining the advantages where illness and distance from school prevented education under normal conditions. Samples of work were shown which were excellent examples of what can be accomplished.

The members bought raffle tickets to defray expenses of the A.C.W.W. conference which will be held in Canada in 1953.

The baby spoon was presented to the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews.

Mrs. E. E. Andrews and Mrs. R. Wilson assisted the hostess in serving a lovely springtime tea.

Regular Meeting Reid Hill W.I.

Mrs. Pete McIntyre, assisted by Mrs. Jack Marshall, entertained the regular meeting of Reid Hill W.I. at the McIntyre home, Thursday, April 10, with a good attendance of members. Roll call was answered with "A Cure for the Blues", and proved interesting.

Business matters dealt with included the voting of donations to the Salvation Army and to the Canadian Cancer Drive; discussion and planning for catering to a wedding reception later this month, and a committee to be in charge of all arrangements; the selling of tickets on a raffle of Old Country fancy-work; and other routine matters.

Mrs. C. McMillan, the delegate from the branch, who had attended the recent District W.I. Conference, in Lethbridge gave a most comprehensive and interesting report of the conference, which was much enjoyed by all.

A Parcel Post sale was held to bring the business session to a close. The tea draw was won by Mrs. Marshall, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

All Work - No Pay

Income tax deductions and returns, unemployment insurance, sales tax and census of industry returns. We have just finished our usual stint of work for the government, all without pay and without thanks.

The amount of work done for the government and the amount of time involved sometimes makes us feel that we're on the government payroll, with the one difference being that someone keeps forgetting to send us that weekly pay cheque.

When we figure the amount of time spent on keeping records for the government and multiply it by a reasonable hourly charge, the total is quite an eye-opener. And when we know we should be spending that time on our own work it makes us madder than ever.

Take sales tax, for instance. Nearly every bit of commercial printing done by the Advocate or any other printing shop requires 10 per cent sales tax to be added to the price of the job, collected from the customer and sent to the Collector of Customs and Excise. We record it, total it every month, send the records (in triplicate of course) in to the government every month using our cheques and our stamps and then have to explain to our customers that we are just a collecting agency for the extra 10 per cent on the price of his job.

Then there's the annual chores on workmen's compensation, census of industry, etc. And unemployment insurance, with its figuring, deductions and stamp-licking. No commission for our efforts and time, of course. Merely a blast from some government employee if everything isn't done correctly. And if, in the rush of busy office, you are a day late in sending in your monthly income tax report (accompanied by your cheque, of course) you are made to feel that you are practically a criminal.

We're probably doing all this because the paid civil servants are now working on a 35-hour week, or is it 30 by now. We'd like that kind of a work week, too, but then we might not be able to keep up to date on all this work we're doing for the government.

Losing Out in Parliament

The prairie provinces of Canada are losing out when it comes to representation in the House of Commons at Ottawa. The reason is that the population in this area is not increasing as much as it is in the rest of Canada, and particularly in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. Representation in the House of Commons is based upon population, the total being 262 seats.

The census taken in the spring of 1951 shows that Alberta's population increased by about 150,000 and Manitoba's by 45,000, while Saskatchewan lost 60,000. This means that Alberta will retain her 17 members in the federal house, Manitoba will lose 2, dropping from 16 to 14, and Saskatchewan will lose 5, dropping from 20 to 15. The drop in representation in the prairie provinces will be 7 seats, from 52 to 46.

On the other hand the representation from Ontario and Quebec combined will rise from 156 in 1946 to 160 (75 for Quebec and 85 for Ontario). British Columbia's representation will increase from 18 to 22.

The principle reasons for the changed situation are: mechanization of agriculture in the prairie provinces resulting in larger farms and a decline in the farm population; the slow growth of industrial development in the area; increased industrialization in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

The trend can be halted only by aggressive industrial development in the prairie provinces. Alberta has the best opportunity for such a program.

—Brooks Bulletin.

Alberta school teachers have a big decision to make. They are either in a profession and should act in a professional manner or they are members of a trade union, according to Hon. Ivan Casey, provincial Minister of Education.

Will it be a miserable spring or a good one? That is the question on everyone's mind as fields slowly approach the state of dryness necessary to allow harvesting and seeding to proceed. With a double amount of work to do this spring, the absence of rain for a few weeks would cause no great concern.

Vulcan is miles from the nearest river, but town residents have their own "flood" troubles each spring. A good, long-range program of street construction and proper placing of culverts would do much to overcome this annual spring problem.

Need Combined Effort For Warble Control

A drastic reduction in losses caused Canadian cattle herds by warble flies can be achieved through complete co-operation between all cattle owners.

According to scientists Canadian cattlemen lose up to $15,000,000 annually through damage by warble flies. This consists of reduction in milk yields and weight gains due to flies bothering cattle and interfering with grazing; cattle injuring or killing themselves trying to escape the attack of flies; unthriftiness and milk yield reduction caused by warble grubs in a cow's body; grub injury to hides.

Organized application of control measures in Canada have been highly effective, particularly in Ontario where government legislation enforces warble fly control.

Under the Ontario Warble Fly Control Act, if more than two-thirds of cattle owners in a municipality sign a petition, the municipal council must pass a by-law requiring all cattle within the municipality to be treated.

Three sprayings are recommended during the year in Ontario. The first should be made between April 1 and 18, the second between May 1 and 18 and the third between June 2 and 17. There should be not less than three weeks and not more than four weeks between treatments.

Tractors and Fire—Minimizing Danger

Fire insurance figures continue to show that tractors still remain something of a "bad-man" on many farms. And there is no reason why this should be, experts point out, if a few simple precautions are observed.

Here are a few pointers to take the fire risk out of tractors:

(1) Keep the tractor well serviced. The chief fire hazards are mufflers, gasoline lines and the ignition system.

(2) Under no circumstances do any repair work to a tractor in a building where fire could do extensive damage. Distance is the greatest protection and cheapest. A minimum distance is 80 feet from any main building. Flaming gasoline spreads rapidly and much material around a farm is often dry and inflammable.

(3) Combustible material on the tractor or nearby can be a serious fire risk. Chaff can accumulate on the engine, pile up on the muffler or get sufficiently in contact with heated parts to cause a flash fire. In starting the engine it may back-fire and ignite inflammable material nearby.

(4) Drive the tractor around the farm with the same care and attention given to driving a car on a crowded highway.

To sum up the expert's advice: use good judgment at all times and the farm tractor will no longer be a possible farm fire hazard.

MASSEY-HARRIS 44 DIESEL

● A different kind of Diesel farm power, the Massey-Harris 4-cylinder 44 Diesel brings new efficiency, economy, pulling power... new money-saving field performance to the Diesel farmer. It's the result of an amazingly simple engine design. A special firing chamber—called a Dyna-Cell—creates a cyclonic rotary turbulence of the burning fuel on every power stroke. Burning fuel swirls the full length of the stroke exerting equal pressure throughout piston travel. Fuel burns slower, smoother... delivers a pushing force. It's cushioned power. Dependable power. Greater lugging power because there's full power on every stroke of every piston.

See us soon for complete information... be sure to ask about Cushioned Power and Dyna-Cell design.

Miss K. Henderson of Lethbridge attended the bride as maid of honor. Her gown was of blue nylon over taffeta. She wore a blue bandeau of flowers in her hair and carried a Colonial Bouquet. Miss Aggie Owen of Calgary was bridesmaid. She chose a frock of yellow nylon over taffeta and wore a yellow bandeau of flowers in her hair. She carried a colonial bouquet.

READ SIGNS OF LIFE HEED

CARS BY THEMSELVES
 ... ARE NOT KILLERS

The modern automobile, given reasonable attention and care, is mechanically safe. But you can't always trust the man or woman at the wheel.

Most of the traffic accidents this season — by a wide margin — will be due to HUMAN FAILURE... not anything going wrong with the car itself. Drivers will fall asleep. They will pass on hills and curves. They will take their eyes off the road; they will do other foolish things, forgetting that the impact of collision at 60 miles per hour is precisely the same as driving a car off the roof of a fourteen-storey building.

The Infantry recruit is a keyman in our defence plans. For as he finishes his training he will take his place in the front lines of our freedom at home and overseas.

But it takes time to produce these highly trained soldiers. And to maintain our security, to discourage aggression, we must be able to meet any eventuality. That is why we must have more young men for Infantry training now.

If you are interested in Canada's future, now is the time to do something about it. Serve with the most important men in the Army — the Infantry.

There are outstanding career opportunities for young men in the Canadian Army Active Force.

You are eligible if you are 17 to 40, tradesmen to 45, and ready to serve anywhere.

Drilling Activity In Western Canada Reaches New Record

Drilling operations in Western Canada's oil and gas industry reached another new record, according to the "Daily Oil Bulletin's" most recent survey of drilling rigs operating in the west. Today's record of 241 active rigs is a boost of around 65 per cent compared with the number operating about one year ago, and an increase of nearly 2 per cent compared with the activity a month ago.

In addition to the active rigs in the four western provinces, one rig is currently enroute to a wildcat site in the Northwest Territories and around eight to ten rigs are standing idle awaiting the lift of road bans prior to moving to new locations. When road conditions permit there will be some 250 rigs drilling or moving to sites while in coming months additional rigs will be shipped into Canada, as numerous contractors have specified their intention to purchase further rigs to keep pace with the increased exploratory and development program in Western Canada. All four provinces and the N.W.T. will see a record amount of activity during the summer months.

More than 85 per cent of Canada's drilling is being carried out in Alberta, where 201 rigs are at work, including 143 at field development ventures and 58 on wildcats. Greatest concentration of activity is in the famed Leduc-Woodbend region where some 31 rigs are currently engaged.

Saskatchewan's drilling operations is also at a record peak, with 28 rigs at work, including 23 at exploratory ventures and five carrying out field development drilling. That province's drilling will be increased considerably during the summer as oil companies commence their 1952 wildcat program which stems from the extensive geophysical operations so far carried out and the encouraging oil-gas discoveries and showings so far obtained at wildcat wells.

Drilling activity in Manitoba has remained about constant during the past few months, and there are still five rigs carrying out exploratory and development in that province.

Carrying out the west's drilling are some 85 contractors or oil firms operating their own rigs, compared with about four dozen a year ago. Top three contractors, in terms of the number of rigs operating are: Commonwealth Drilling Co. Ltd., 20 rigs; Regent Drilling Co. Ltd., 15 rigs; and General Petroleum of Canada Ltd., 13 rigs.

WARBLE TIME AGAIN

In spite of the trouble and loss caused by warble flies in Alberta only one-fifth of the million and a half cattle in this province were treated for warbles last year. W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that splendid work is being done by a number of organizations, but there is still room for improvement. In some cases, Agricultural Service Boards are providing the leadership; in others, local organizations of farmers are doing the job themselves. In the ranching areas individual power sprayers are in operation and annual spraying for warbles is considered part of the regular program.

An example of farmer organization is reported from Clive, where a very active organization exists. This organization was organized about five years ago with a membership of 33 farmers, each of whom contributed towards purchase of a power sprayer. Later, 50 more farmers joined the association. A man is hired to travel from farm to farm spraying cattle within an area of ten miles square. His equipment consists of a tractor, small trailer, and a portable corral which holds from 8 to 10 cattle at one time.

The charge for spraying is 15 cents per head for members, and 25 cents per head for non-members. The operator is paid at the rate of ten cents per head to spray the cattle, and he furnishes everything except the sprayer, the portable corral and the powder. From 3,500 to 4,000 cattle a year are usually sprayed as a result of the efforts of the association.

It pays to treat warbles. Ten cents per animal spent for material may mean a saving of $10.00 in meat, milk and hides. If your cattle were among the twelve hundred thousand that went unsprayed last year, talk to your district agriculturist, and decide how you can keep your herd free from these troublesome, dollar-stealing warble flies.

Holland was the home of the freedom of press in the early 16th century.

Care Required In Shrub Choice

It is better to use fairly small plants in planting a hedge, says B. W. Oliver, Assistant, Ornamental Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Two-year-old plants from seed are excellent for most deciduous hedges and four years for conifers.

The first spring after planting, deciduous hedges should be cut down to within a few inches of the ground. If older-bushy plants are used cut them back almost to the base of last year's growth. This causes the plant to throw out numerous new shoots close to the ground. In the case of conifers, cut off only about half of last year's growth.

Hedges must be clipped each year to keep them in good shape. Never let a hedge reach the desired height before starting to trim it. This will result in a bushy top on tall leafless stems.

The correct time to trim will vary with the locality and the season. In general, hedges should be trimmed when the active period of growth is about at an end. In most parts of Canada this will be at the end of June or early July for deciduous plants and about September first for conifers. Hedges should be clipped during dull spells of weather to avoid tip burning.

The reason for clipping towards the end of the growing season is largely one of economy. Hedges trimmed at this time rarely grow enough to get out of shape during the remainder of the season and will look untidy only for two or three weeks in June.

Then her many beautiful gifts were opened.

All grandmothers are especially invited to attend the May meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Norah Campbell. The social committee will arrange a special program. The committee reported many remembrances being sent out. Mrs. Chloe Marshall won the contest and Mrs. Anna Laughlin the raffle. Sixteen ladies answered the roll call. THE LONESOME YEARS

Loneliness may be a greater problem in old age than physical ills and poverty. Where possible, groups should be formed to provide recreation for older people, and contact with their contemporaries. Many of these people have skills that could bring pleasure and new interests to the group, with the probability of improved health and wellbeing.

Gold holding of Canadian government grows steadily. From $296,000,000 in January, 1948, these have gone up to $841,700,000 in December 1951. Yet the Bank of Canada has not a dollar in gold, and Canadian currency has no gold backing whatever.

New 1952 Buick Now On Display at CENTRAL GARAGE

THE 1952 BUICK features handsome restyling inside and out and is available in three series — Roadmaster, Super and Custom — including 14 models. New for 1952 are the sweeppear and rocker panel moldings, a redesigned front end in the distinctive Buick styling and rear fender ornaments that enhance the beauty of the long, flowing fenders. Four horsepower ratings and four wheelbases are included in the three series. Buick's automatic transmission, Dynaflo, is standard on the Roadmaster and an option at extra cost on the Super and Custom. New and bigger front wheel brakes are also featured on all models, while new body insulation reduces road noise. A new four-barrel Airpower carburetor is featured on the Roadmaster only and Power Steering is optional at extra cost on this same series. Shown here is the Custom Deluxe four-door sedan.
